Three Farmers Went a Hunting

Three farmers went a hunting
And the first thing that they found
Was a frog in a well and that they left behind
Look a flare now
One said it was a frog and the other said nay
One said it was a bird with the feathers washed away
Look at there now

They hunted and they hunted
And the next thing that they found
Was a barn in the woods and that they left behind
Look a there now
One said it was a barn and the other said nay
One said it was a church with the steeple blown away
Look at there now

They hunted and they hunted
And the next thing that they found
Was the moon in the sky and that they left behind
Look a there now
One said it was a moon and the other said nay
One said it was a cheese but the half was cut away
Look at there now

Three farmers went a hunting
And the first thing that they found
Was a frog in a well and that they left behind
Look a flare now
One said it was a frog and the other said nay
One said it was a bird with the feathers washed away
Look at there now
